2019-2020

INTRODUCTION

Medical Education and Communication Companies (MECCs)

Medical Education and Communication Companies (MECCs) are a key part of the process involved in disseminating pharmaceutical, biopharmaceutical, and other scientific research to regulatory agencies, healthcare professionals, and the public at large. MECCs help their pharmaceutical and medical clients educate healthcare professionals about proven and emerging therapies, devices, and clinical processes that will improve patient outcomes and patient care. MECCs use their knowledge of regulatory guidelines, scientific literature, and the healthcare marketplace to design effective integrated medical communications plans, providing services such as regulatory and medical writing, medical education, advocacy development, literature surveillance, publication planning and tracking, speaker training and management, and event planning. These companies employ teams of professional scientific managers, medical writers, and medical editors, and maintain valuable relationships with leading clinicians and researchers involved in medicine, medical research, nursing, and pharmacy.

Overview of the Fellowship Program

MedVal Scientific Information Services, LLC and PharmaWrite Medical Communications, LLC are jointly offering a 1-year postdoctoral fellowship in the medical communication industry beginning July 1, 2019. The program includes a teaching component and the opportunity to acquire a teaching certificate through the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy (PCP), University of the Sciences in Philadelphia.

The fellow will share his/her time between MedVal/PharmaWrite and PCP.

Fellowship Program Goals

The primary goal of the program is to provide a foundation for a career in medical communications through training and exposure to various aspects of the industry, including educational and promotional programs and activities. In addition, the fellow will be appointed as Adjunct Clinical Instructor in the Department of Pharmacy Practice and Pharmacy Administration at PCP to develop his/her teaching skills through formal educational instruction to PharmD students. This educational instruction includes teaching in small group courses, delivery of a didactic lecture and a continuing education (CE) program for pharmacists, and serving as a preceptor to Advanced Pharmacy Practice Experience (APPE) rotation students in medical communications.

Follow Angelli Chua, our 2018-2019 fellow, on Twitter (@Fellow_PWMV) for fellowship updates, event information, and deadline reminders!

MENTORING TEAM

Megan McEntire, PharmD, RPh, CMPP™

Associate Director, Scientific Communications, MedVal, LLC
Director, Medical Communications Fellowship

Dr. Megan McEntire's current role as Associate Director of Scientific Communications enables her to interact with clients and key opinion leaders on a personal basis to facilitate dissemination of medical knowledge. Megan has experience in publication planning, developing scientific manuscripts, planning and implementing scientific development and logistics for advisory board meetings, competitive surveillance reporting, and conducting gap analyses and KOL analyses in the therapeutic areas of pain management, women's health, bipolar disorder, rheumatoid arthritis, osteoporosis, infectious disease, rare diseases, and oncology. As the fellowship director, she ensures that the fellows receive a well-rounded education in medical publications with as much hands on experience as possible. She also serves as the primary preceptor for APPE PharmD students from Albany College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, Rutgers University, Temple University, and the University of the Sciences in Philadelphia.

Megan graduated from East Tennessee State University with a Bachelor of Science in Chemistry, concentration in Biochemistry, and worked in the chemical industry. However, her passion was to help people in the healthcare field, so she returned to further her education at the Bill Gattton College of Pharmacy at East Tennessee State University, where she received her Doctor of Pharmacy degree in 2011.

Megan completed the 2011-2012 MedVal/PharmaWrite Medical Communications Postdoctoral fellowship program. She was the first fellow to obtain her teaching certificate from the University of the Sciences College of Pharmacy in Philadelphia. In 2012 she joined MedVal as an Associate Manager of Scientific Communications and in 2013 she received her Certified Medical Publication Professional (CMPP) credential through ISMPP. Megan is a member of APhA, ASHP, AMWA, IPhO, and ISMPP and has served on the ISMPP Membership Committee.

Louis P. Greco, PharmD, RPh, CMPP™

President, PharmaWrite, LLC
Managing Director, MedVal, LLC

Dr. Lou Greco came to PharmaWrite with a strong background in pharmaceutical science and management from his tenure at Rutgers University College of Pharmacy and in retail pharmacy. Lou's primary responsibilities at PharmaWrite begin with providing clients with strategic direction and advocacy development (eg, recruiting and building relationships with opinion leaders). As well, he manages multiple teams of talented writers, researchers, project managers, editors, meeting planners, and artists in initiating and developing effective medical communications programs, including satellite symposia at national meetings, product publication plans, speakers' training meetings, advisory board meetings, CME publications, product monographs, and several other types of meetings and publications. In addition, Lou oversees PharmaWrite's extensive information technology group. He also plays a key role in PharmaWrite's plan to expand in new therapeutic areas.

Lou received his Bachelor of Science degree in Pharmacy from Rutgers University College of Pharmacy in Piscataway, New Jersey. He returned to the College of Pharmacy to earn his Doctor of Pharmacy degree in 2001. Prior to joining PharmaWrite, Lou was Director of the Office of Continuous Education at Rutgers, where he served as Adjunct Professor in the Department of Pharmacy Practice and Administration. He has also worked in the field as a Pharmacist-in-Charge and staff pharmacist at a number of pharmacies in New Jersey. His management skills have been refined over the years through his work on various academic and experiential committees at Rutgers University.

Currently, Lou is working to earn his graduate certificate in Pharmaceutical and Medical Device Law and Compliance at the Seton Hall School of Law in New Jersey. Lou is a member of the International Society for Medical Publication Professionals (ISMPP), currently serving on the Membership Committee.

Rosie J. Lynch, RPh, CMPP™

President, MedVal, LLC
Managing Director, PharmaWrite, LLC

As President of MedVal and Managing Director of PharmaWrite, Rosie Lynch is in charge of expanding strategic vision, developing new business, maintaining thought leader relationships, and managing strategic alliances with other organizations and associations. Rosie has over 25 years of medical communications experience developing educational, strategic, and tactical initiatives for the pharmaceutical, biopharmaceutical, and medical device industries. She has held executive-level positions for 18 of those years, and has overseen the development and execution of a wide variety of medical communications programs across all phases of brand lifecycles. Rosie's marketing and business development expertise, scientific background, and managerial skills have enabled her to design and implement programs with proven return on investment. She was responsible for starting the pharmacy internship program through Rutgers College of Pharmacy many years ago.

Rosie earned her Bachelor of Science degree at Rutgers University College of Pharmacy and is licensed to practice pharmacy in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. She is a lifelong member of the Hematology Oncology Pharmacists Association (HOPA). She recently completed serving a 3-year term on the Board of Trustees of the International Society for Medical Publication Professionals (ISMPP) as Treasurer, and is certified by ISMPP as a Certified Medical Publication Professional (CMPP).

Rosie began her career at Schering in Drug Information, where she handled all healthcare-related inquiries and provided training to the sales force on key medical components of their sales areas. She then moved into professional services in respiratory and allergy medicine. Rosie also worked in marketing development at Schering, where she was involved in the highly successful launch of Claritin®.

Robert Gilbert, STL, CMPP™

Director, Scientific Communications, PharmaWrite, LLC

Robert Gilbert, Director of Scientific Communications at PharmaWrite, has an uncommon commitment to quality and client satisfaction. His 20 years of experience with PharmaWrite have included management of 20 pub plans for 27 products (7 launch; 5 line extensions) for 14 pharmaceutical companies. This work has included successful publications in JAMA, The Lancet, Annals of Internal Medicine, and many other top-tier journals.

Robert has also managed over 50 advisory board, speaker training, and regional consultant meetings. In addition, he has managed multidisciplinary summits with specialists, PCPs, nurses, NPs/PAs, claims processing/office managers, patients, and MCO representatives, as well as numerous CE symposia, including a series of 10 multidisciplinary CE meetings for 2,000 physicians, nurses, and pharmacists.

Robert has also written regulatory reports submitted to the US Food and Drug Administration and facilitated workshops on medical writing for clinical investigators and on creating presentations for medical liaisons. He has also directed the creation of clinical and caregiver websites for patient advocacy organizations and assisted them in the identification of thought leaders, with a special focus on identifying specialist “up & comers” through analysis of recent abstract submissions. Robert has also overseen the creation of medical response letters, AMCP Dossiers, formulary kits, and international scientific product monographs for launch products, and he has helped develop speakers bureau websites and facilitated live and archived speaker training webcasts.

Robert’s academic experience enables him to establish an easy rapport with investigators and other members of the academic and scientific community, resulting in relationships that prove to be highly effective in meeting the needs of PharmaWrite’s clients. Since joining the PharmaWrite team, Rob has worked in the areas of analgesia (adult and pediatric) for both acute and chronic conditions (eg, low back pain, osteoarthritis, fibromyalgia, neuropathic pain, sports injuries), drug abuse, epilepsy, anti-infectives, hypophosphatasia, and metabolic disorders. He is a Certified Medical Publication Professional and member of the International Society for Medical Publication Professionals (ISMPP), the International Publication Planning Association (TIPPA), and an associate member of the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE).

Robert studied in Europe for 8 years and remains proficient in French, German, and Dutch. His academic expertise is in text hermeneutics, classical literary theory, and several ancient languages (Greek, Latin, Hebrew, Aramaic, Moabitic).

Sherri D. Jones, PharmD, CMPP™

Scientific Director/Senior Medical Writer, MedVal, LLC

Dr. Sherri Jones has over 15 years of industry experience. As a medical writer, she has extensive experience in the development of multiple publication formats, including primary research articles, narrative reviews, systematic reviews and meta-analyses, abstracts, posters, and slide presentations, as well as content for physician education and other internal or external communication needs. Sherri also has experience in publication planning for products at all stages of development and in developing content for, and summaries of, advisory board meetings. She has worked in several therapeutic areas, including neuroscience/mental health, oncology (acute myeloid leukemia, adult T-cell leukemia/lymphoma, breast cancer, chronic lymphocytic leukemia/small lymphocytic lymphoma, high grade glioma, and supportive care, including chemotherapy-induced nausea and vomiting), rare disorders (eg, cerebrotendinous xanthomatosis, Zellweger spectrum disorders, and Dupuytren disease), multiple sclerosis, endocrinology, women’s health, and dermatology.

Sherri received her Bachelor of Science and Doctor of Pharmacy degrees from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, University of the Sciences in Philadelphia (USP), Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. She began her career in the retail pharmacy setting, first as a staff pharmacist then as a pharmacy team leader for CVS Pharmacy in the Ann Arbor, Michigan area. She then went on to practice in the long-term care setting at Foote Long Term Care Pharmacy, Jackson, Michigan, as a consultant pharmacist. In this position, Sherri regularly provided clinical information and educational in-services to physicians and nursing professionals.

Prior to joining MedVal, Sherri served as a Scientific Director for a medical communications company, where she worked with clients to develop comprehensive plans for scientific publications and oversaw a team of several medical writers to successfully implement publication plans.

Jennifer Kent, PhD, CMPP™

Scientific Director/Senior Medical Writer, MedVal, LLC

Dr. Jennifer Kent partners with clients to provide strategic insight and execution of a variety of projects, including publication plans, publication development, and clinical study documents, as well as other regulatory submissions in the areas of hematology/oncology, oncology supportive care, gastrointestinal disorders, and men’s health. Jennifer also works with clients, physicians, and other health care professionals to manage and develop content for advisory boards targeted to different audiences, including leading oncologists, oncology nurses, and pharmacy directors covering a variety of therapeutic areas such as breast cancer, management of chemotherapy-induced nausea and vomiting, glioblastoma, management of mucositis, multiple myeloma, non-small cell lung cancer, prostate cancer, and management of venous thromboembolism.

Jennifer has experience in researching and creating primary and secondary peer-reviewed articles; abstracts, posters, and slides for major medical meetings; and various other written materials such as retrospective analyses, registry reports, meeting summaries, internal white papers, competitive surveillance reports, and educational programs in manuscript or slide format. Areas in which she has written include management of type 2 diabetes, sleep research, erectile dysfunction, tissue disorders such as Peyronie’s disease and Dupuytren’s contracture, and hematology/oncology—specifically, breast cancer, myelodysplastic syndrome, acute myeloid leukemia, management of chemotherapy-induced nausea and vomiting, metastatic liver cancer, prostate cancer, and management of venous thromboembolism.

Prior to joining MedVal, Jennifer was a postdoctoral fellow with Dr. Nigel Fraser at the University of Pennsylvania in the Department of Microbiology. While in Dr. Fraser’s laboratory, Jennifer studied the regulation of gene expression of herpes simplex virus type 1 during the lytic and latent phases of infection. Several abstracts and articles from this research were presented at local and international virology meetings and were published in peer-reviewed journals such as the Journal of Virology and the Journal of Neurovirology.

Jennifer earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in Biology from Wittenberg University. She went on to receive her PhD from the University of Delaware, where her dissertation involved research on the impact of recombinant vaccines against an avian oncogenic herpesvirus.

MENTORING TEAM

Meghan Sullivan, PhD, CMPP™

Senior Medical Writer, MedVal, LLC

Dr. Meghan Sullivan received her PhD from The University of Chicago's committee on Molecular Pathology and Molecular Medicine, where her research focused on the production of cytokines in human pulmonary tissue and their contribution to asthma pathogenesis. While at The University of Chicago, Meghan also studied the efficacy of the yearly influenza vaccine and its impact on the B-cell repertoire. Her extensive research in the field of human immunology makes her uniquely suited to working in the rapidly growing field of immunotherapeutics.

Since graduating, Meghan has been involved in numerous publications in the fields of oncology (glioblastoma, head and neck cancer, non-small-cell lung cancer, among others), pain management, diabetes, chronic kidney disease, cardiology, and rheumatology. In the field of oncology, she has extensive experience with immuno-oncologic agents, including monoclonal antibodies and small molecule inhibitors. She is a member of the International Society for Medical Publication Professionals and has received the Certified Medical Publication Professional certification. Her expertise includes the development of congress abstracts, posters, and presentations as well as original articles, reviews, gap analyses, and lexicons.

Sarah Mizne, PharmD, RPh, CMPP™

Senior Medical Writer, MedVal, LLC

As a medical writer, Dr. Sarah Mizne works closely with clients and authors to develop scientific publications including original research articles, supplements, and abstracts; posters and slide decks for meeting presentations; and educational training materials in a variety of formats. She has additional experience in publication planning, scientific platform development, and competitive surveillance reporting. Sarah has also contributed content and delivered executive summaries for advisory boards targeting oncology pharmacists and pharmacy directors of National Comprehensive Cancer Network- and National Cancer Institute-designated cancer centers.

During the past 8 years with MedVal, Sarah has developed extensive writing experience in endocrinology, epilepsy, and hematology/oncology—specifically, gastroenteropancreatic neuroendocrine tumors and carcinoid syndrome, chronic lymphocytic leukemia, and breast cancer. Other therapeutic areas in which she has written include psoriasis, bipolar disorder, traumatic brain injury, sleep disorders, women's health, and pharmacokinetic drug-interactions.

Sarah received a Bachelor of Arts in Anthropology from the University of Tennessee. She went on to study pharmacy and received her PharmD degree from the University of Tennessee College of Pharmacy and completed a postdoctoral industry fellowship in medical communications with PharmaWrite/MedVal.

Sarah currently holds pharmacy licenses in the states of New Jersey and New York and has worked on a per-diem basis for a local Pharmacy chain. She is also a member of the American Medical Writers Association and the International Society for Medical Publication Professionals.

Brian Atkinson, PhD, CMPP™

Scientific Director, MedVal, LLC

Dr. Brian Atkinson has over 20 years of experience as a researcher and medical writer. Prior to joining MedVal, Brian was the Lead Medical Writer for the Immunoscience and CNS franchises at Bristol-Myers Squibb, where he worked on priority presentations and publications in transplant immunosuppression (Nulogix®), rheumatoid arthritis (Orencia®), psoriatic arthritis (clazakizumab) and acute migraine therapy (CGRP antagonist). Brian's work as the principal writer for Nulogix resulted in 12 published manuscripts and 19 oral presentations at scientific and medical congresses. Brian also lead an initiative that provided training in Good Publication Practices to over 200 staff members from over 30 overseas markets.

Prior to working at Bristol-Myers, Brian worked for eight years as a senior medical writer and medical director at PharmaWrite, where he developed over 25 priority presentations and publications in preparation for the launch of Topamax® in migraine prevention. In addition, Brian wrote or oversaw development of publications relating to neuropathic pain (Ultracet®, Topamax) and psychiatric disorders such as binge eating and bulimia nervosa (Topamax), and participated in advisory boards for addiction treatment (Prometa™). Brian also worked as the lead writer on a series of stand-alone European continuing medical education conferences that annually drew over 300 rheumatologists and dermatologists to state of the art presentations on rheumatoid arthritis, ankylosing spondylitis, and psoriatic arthritis.

Brian received his Doctorate in Pharmacology from Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia, where he focused on the pharmacology and regulation of adrenergic receptors. His postdoctoral fellowship at the National Institutes of Health related to the pharmacology and regulation of dopamine receptor subtypes.

2018-2019 Fellow

Angelli Chua, PharmD

Postdoctoral Fellow, MedVal, LLC/PharmaWrite, LLC

Dr. Angelli Chua's responsibilities as the current Medical Communications Fellow at MedVal/PharmaWrite include competitive surveillance reporting, project management, publication planning, clinical and regulatory writing, slide deck development, gap analyses, graphic design, and social media communications. Additionally, she serves as an Adjunct Clinical Instructor at the University of the Sciences in Philadelphia.

Angelli completed the six-year Accelerated PharmD Program at University of the Pacific, where she received her Bachelor of the Arts in Applied Sciences and her Doctor of Pharmacy degree. During her graduate studies, she worked part-time in retail pharmacy and pursued an interest in travel health medicine, obtaining a Certificate in Pharmacy-Based Travel Health Services. She chose to pursue a career in the pharmaceutical industry as a way to combine her pharmacy background, interests in writing and communication, and desire to impact patient care on a population level.

THE ACADEMIC COMPONENT

Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, The University of the Sciences

A Winning Partnership

As the first college of pharmacy in the United States, the University of the Sciences has been dedicated to the professions of pharmacy practice, science, and healthcare for nearly 200 years and has educated the founders of 6 of the world's top pharmaceutical companies. Partnering with such an institution will give the fellow the opportunity to interact with and learn from first-class educators and potentially open the door to a rewarding career in one of the fastest growing industries in the world.

Opportunities Within the Academic Setting

- ◆ Opportunity to participate in the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy Teaching and Learning Curriculum Program (PCP TLC)
- ◆ The teaching program requires activities such as delivering a didactic lecture and CE program, teaching in small group courses, precepting advanced pharmacy practice experiences, participating in leadership lectures, and preparing a teaching portfolio
- ◆ Choose between the Preceptor Track or Academia Track to suit individual teaching interests
- ◆ Collaborate with a faculty mentor in the Department of Pharmacy Practice and Pharmacy Administration to develop skills related to the preparation and delivery of dynamic learning experiences on drug information resources, applied literature evaluation, or disease states
- ◆ Participate in recitations for seminar and lead student discussions of journal club articles
- ◆ Participate during in-class activities or workshops on drug information resources and searching electronic databases
- ◆ Utilize and understand methods to teach effectively, such as active learning strategies, individual learning styles, and group learning
- ◆ Learn to use audiovisual resources, including PollEverywhere, Blackboard, and other standard resources
- ◆ In addition to audiovisual services, the Fellow will have access to an extensive collection of journals, references, e-mail accounts, photocopy services, and computer software programs provided by the University of the Sciences Library and the Department of Pharmacy Practice and Pharmacy Administration
